A two-day practical workshop for participants to learn how to create an open weave, lacy felted fabric. Various wet felting techniques combine wool, silk and other natural fibres into a unique lace structure that can be further embellished with hand and/or machine embroidery. These techniques can be used in creating standalone artworks or developed into wearables, 3D objects, or mixed media projects as your own art practice dictates.

The workshop is suitable for all, from newcomers to felting to those who wish to add an extra dimension or new ideas to their felting.
